

Protecting Those Who Serve During the Overdose Crisis

Indiana Law Enforcement Academy Training
Monday, January 17, 2022
9:00am to 12:00pm (via Zoom)

The overdose crisis, fraught community relations, looming budget cuts: law enforcement is facing unprecedented levels of stress and scrutiny.

Training Goals: This program from the SHIELD Training Initiative will provide officers and departments with operational strategies and best practices to:

1. Protect you from occupational health and safety risks
2. Improve job satisfaction by offering strategies to reduce cumulative stress, trauma and its effects, and burnout – thereby improving retention
3. Expand your toolbox to help you respond more effectively to the public health challenges of the overdose crisis
4. Reduce addiction and related crime, and
5. Strengthen police-community relations

To register or for more information, please go to:

<https://behaviorhealthjustice.wayne.edu/shield>

Indiana State
Department of Health

WAYNE STATE UNIVERSITY
School of Social Work
Center for Behavioral Health and Justice